

I presume it will be necessary to have further Vouchers, or at least properly stated accounts, showing the items making up the amount of these entries. Mr. Keoman took away with the books he brought down and I think it probable, that in that book, the accounts were kept.

The foregoing comprises all the errors or deficiencies in the accounts and Vouchers which I have discovered.

Baltimore.

Remain truly yours
H. G. Culbreth.

Sir,

Council Chamber
Annapolis June 19th 1829

Yours of the 14th ultimo covering a bond signed in blank by Capt. Walton and others, and ordering a loan of rifles for Capt. W. H. has been received.

I am sorry to have to inform you that the State has no rifles on hand to copy and that there are many prior applications, some of which have been a long time on file. You will be pleased to file also, and the attention of the Executive called to it at their next meeting.

Attorney General

Very respectfully
Yours Obedient
H. G. Culbreth

Sir

Council Chamber
