Dear Sir

I now do myself the pleasure of sending to you all the commissions which you wrote for. you will see that some of the appointments were made on the 20 of Dec but as all were not made on that day it was thought best not to send them until all the recommendations were acted on which you will see was not done until to day.

To

Yours Respectfully

Dear Sir

I had the pleasure to receive your letter with its enclosure for which I thank you.

These are several items of the States claim against the General Government that have been rejected by Mr. Hagood that I think the State ought not to lose and have taken the liberty of noticing them below in hope that you could suggest some mode by which the amount could be obtained. Such for instance as procuring the
