

salary, which the committee have not deemed it necessary to make the subject of their consideration, believing the former properly to belong exclusively to the Board of Directors, and that it is inexpedient, at this time, to recommend any measure in relation to the latter.