

them,—that his brother Alexander McLean slept in his room that night with him, he is a “Van Buren” man; next morning after he arose he walked up town and remained some time.

WM. McLEAN.

Test, Tho. M. Flint, Clerk.

William S. Greenwood being sworn, deposes and saith, that he saw the ticket now in question on the night of the election, and that it is the same. He confirms the statement of Mr. Nicholson as regards the counting of the ballots that night.

WM. S. GREENWOOD.

Test, Tho. M. Flint, Clerk.

Absalom W. Sparks being sworn, deposes and saith, that he did not see the ticket in question on the night of the election, he heard Mr. Nicholson read it from the box, barrell, bassell or lassell or some such name, he then handed it to Mr. Sappington, who said it was lassell. Witness did not hear what passed among the judges in consequence of the confusion, and he was trying to suppress it. The ticket was ultimately given to Mr. Mansfield, who bowed his head and put it in his hat. Witness is the Deputy Sheriff of Kent county.

A. W. SPARKS.

Test, Tho. M. Flint.