

judges thought that the voter was about to cheat himself and had no intention of cheating the judges.

JOSHUA RUSSELL.

Henry Smith called again. States that there was a ticket taken at the New Market election under the following circumstances:—Two full Whig printed tickets with the name of George Beckenbaugh on each, for the House of Delegates, on one piece of paper, and not separated, the one being above the other, according to the best of his remembrance. The tickets were about the usual size. The Judges threw the ticket away as illegal and did not count it for any one. Some of the tickets containing as much again paper as others, having pictures at the top.

HENRY SMITH.

Plummer Ijams called again. Ques. Was there two, or three tickets on the paper alluded to?

Ans. He recollects while he was clerk of the election aforesaid at the New Market district, there was a ticket taken from the ballot box by the Judges under the following circumstances: The paper, as well as witness recollects, was three full Whig printed tickets with the name of George Beckenbaugh on each, for the House of Delegates, and not separated the one from the other, neither of which tickets were counted by the judges, but he is not certain whether it was two or three, as he did not have it in his hands. There was but one double or tripple ticket taken from the box that he knows of.

On cross examination.

States further, that there was a full Whig printed ticket with five Whig candidates for the House of Delegates, to wit: George Schley, George Beckenbaugh, Grafton Hammond, Surat D. Warfield and Jacob Thomas (of Jno.) below these five names was written John W. Geyer. The judges threw away the ticket as illegal so far as the House of Delegates was concerned.

PLUMMER IJAMS, Jr.

John D. Crumbaugh being sworn, deposeth and saith: That he was one of the judges of the election of Woodsborough district, or No. 11, held on the 3d day of October last, in Frederick county. That certain ballots which were not counted by the
