

fractional parts of the smallest denomination issued. These are impossibilities, but I understand that these fractions are not of the issues of the company as stated.

Having specified several of the errors of this statement, I will now as required, present what I conceive to be a fair view of the finances of the company.