

REPORT.

The Committee on Federal Relations, to whom was referred the address and proceedings of a Convention of Delegates from the thirteen original States, assembled in Philadelphia on the 5th and 6th of July, 1852, for the purpose of adopting some plan for the erection of a suitable monument to commemorate the Declaration of Independence, made in Independence Hall in that city, three-quarters of a century before, beg leave to report, that they have had the said address, and the plan proposed by the Convention, under consideration, and report favorably thereon.

The proposed plan contemplates the erection, by the thirteen original States, of a monument "with thirteen sides or faces, united by an entablature upon which the Declaration of Independence shall be cut into the solid stone, surmounted by a tower or shaft; the thirteen faces to contain such inscriptions and emblazonings as each State shall direct, commemorative of some citizen or citizens of her own who took part in the responsibility of that Declaration."

The cost of the contemplated structure is estimated at $100,000, to defray which it is proposed, that each State shall contribute in proportion to her ratio of the representation in the United States House of Representatives.

The contributing States are to appoint a Board of Trustees, whose duty it shall be to take charge of the funds, superintend the erection of the monument and the keeping of it, and the grounds upon which it shall be constructed, (and which are to be enclosed within an iron railing,) in the necessary repair. On the 7th day of October, 1852, the City Councils of Philadelphia adopted a series of ordinances appropriating a portion of Independence Square to the sublime purpose of commemorating the birth of this great and growing nation. These ordinances of the municipal authorities have been endorsed and ratified by an Act of the Pennsylvania Legislature, approved the 2nd of February last, so that the States uniting in the project, have the amplest guarantees that these grounds and the monument erected thereon can never be diverted from the great national purpose sought to be accomplished.

Such is a brief outline of the plan proposed by the Convention. The Committee cannot suppose that a labored or lengthened argument will be necessary to establish the propriety of our State uniting with her sisters in the construction of the proposed memorial.
