

hereafter for encouragement of the inhabitants of this Province her Majesty's Subjects their Servants and Slaves to take some pains and make it their business to destroy wolves, that there shall be allowed to every such Inhabitant that shall bring a wolves head to any Justice of peace in that County ^{County} where the wolve was killed provided that he that brings it shall before he have Certificate thereof make oath that he himself or some other of her Majesty's Subjects their Servants or Slaves and not an Indian did kill the same in that County and the Justice of peace shall cause the tongue to be cutt out that it may not be presented againe. #

And if an Indian bring a wolves head to any justice of peace he shall have for his satisfaction two hundred pounds of tobacco shall be satisfied out of the County Levy where the wolve was killed and every justice of Peace is required to make the encouragement allowed the Indians as effectuale as he can #

And if any of her Majesty's Subjects bring a wolves head and will not make oath that it was killed by themselves or some other of her Majesty's Subjects their Servants or Slaves as aforesaid he shall have but two hundred pounds of tobacco. #

And for every Crows head that shall be brought to any Justice of peace there shall be paid to the person bringing the same six pounds of Tobacco according to the direction of the Late act of Assembly for killing of wolves and Crows #

This act to endure for three years and to the end of the next Sessions of assembly after the end of the said three years & April 12th 1707 Read & assented to by the house of Delegates

Signed & ordered, W. Foyland

April 12th 1707 Read and assented to by her Majesty's honorable Council: & signed & ordered - W. Bladen & Council

April 15th 1707 On behalf of her Majesty Queen Anne of England &c. &c. I will this be a Law

Seale

Jo. Seymour