

who dare try them by this Commission. In fine, the whole Course of his Life is so Turbulent and Disorderly, that he hath very rarely been clear of some Criminal Prosecution or other in the Provincial Court for many Years, Some of which he hath been Convict of, altho' his Artful and audacious Management of the Subtil and Tricking part of the Law, hath acquitted him from many more, which with as much Justice he deserved Punishment for. That in many more instances, too tedious to insert, the said Macnamara has behaved himself with Insolence and Contempt; all which the Several Justices, after some Resentments, have past over, in hope of his Reformation, but such is his intolerable Pride and Insolence, that of late he has not Scrupled to Insult and Affront his Excellency, both as Governour and Keeper of the Great Seal, as may evidently appear by two Indictments now depending in that Court, found against him by the Grand Inquest for this Province, and the Reasons for his Suspension in the Chancery Court, of which their Lordships have been impartial Judges. That since their Lordship's Determination and Commands has no Effects upon his Proud and Turbulent Spirit, We who have the Honour of his Lordship's Commission, despair of putting the Laws in due Execution for punishment of vice or Maintenance of Vertue and Justice, without being the mark of his Scorn and Revenge, which rather than be liable to, We again declare it to be our firm Resolution, That we will no longer continue in that station, if so Turbulent and Insolent a Person be allowed to practice before us.
