XXXIII. And be it enacted, That the commissioners of the tax shall, at their first meeting, or within ten days thereafter, appoint such person as they may judge most proper, to be collector of the tax in their county; and the person so appointed shall appear before the commissioners within five days thereafter, and in their presence enter into bond, with good and sufficient securities, such as they shall approve, in double the sum to be collected, with condition, "That if the above bound shall well and faithfully execute and perform the several duties required of him as collector of the tax for county, according to law, then the above obligation to be void, else to remain in full force;" and the commissioners shall witness the execution of such bond, and immediately thereafter transmit the same to the clerk of the county court, who shall record the same, and transmit the original to the clerk of the general court, who shall also forthwith record the same, and immediately thereafter deliver the original to the register of the chancery court, to be by him safely kept in the chancery office; and an attested copy of either of the said records shall be as good evidence in law, as if the said bond was actually produced and proved in court; and any person appointed a collector, who shall, after notice of his appointment, neglect to appear, not having a reasonable excuse in the judgment of the commissioners, or appearing shall refuse to take upon him the office of collector, or shall refuse or neglect to give bond as aforesaid, shall forfeit and pay one hundred and fifty pounds current money; and the commissioners of the tax may also, in their discretion, remove any collector from his office, and shall immediately, on any vacancy by death or removal, or by refusal to act, neglect to appear or to give bond as aforesaid, appoint some other collector for their county, who shall be subject to the same penalty in case of neglect or refusal, until a proper collector can be procured for such county.
