

to mend and pay, for every foot fronting his possession so neglected to be paved, the sum of one shilling; and that the said special commissioners shall make, amend and repair the same, out of the public monies by this act directed to be raised, and shall recover the same of such resident owner, or tenant of such non-resident owner respectively, as the case may require, in a summary way, before a magistrate, in the same manner as debts not exceeding five pounds, any law to the contrary notwithstanding.

C. A. P.
XVII.

XIII. And be it enacted, That if any person or persons shall, after the publication of this act, cast or throw down, out of any cart, wagon, or other carriage, any rubbish, dirt, or earth, in any public street, lane, or alley, of the town of Baltimore, save only in such parts and places as shall be appointed and agreed on by the said special commissioners, every such offender shall forfeit and pay, for every such offence, the sum of five shillings, and pay the costs of removing the same; and if any person or persons, save the said special commissioners, shall hereafter remove or pull down any bar, chain, rope, or fence, which the said special commissioners shall hereafter cause to be set up, in or across the said streets, lanes, or alleys, for the preservation of the pavement then newly made, every such person who shall so offend shall forfeit and pay the sum of three pounds for every such offence.

Penalty on persons throwing down rubbish, &c.

XIV. And be it enacted, That if any distiller, soap-boiler, or tallow-chandler, within the said town, shall discharge any foul or nauseous liquor, from any still-house or work-shop, so that such liquor shall pass into or along any of the streets, lanes, and alleys, of said town; or if any soap-boiler or tallow-chandler shall keep, collect, or use, or cause to be kept, collected, or used, in any of the built parts of the town, any stale, putrid, or stinking fat, grease, or other offensive matter; or if any butcher shall keep at or near his slaughter-house any garbage or filth whatsoever, so as to annoy any neighbour, or any person whatsoever, he, she, or they, being thereof convicted before any justice of the peace of the said town, shall forfeit and pay, for every such offence, the sum of thirty-five shillings.

On distillers, &c. discharging nauseous liquors, &c.

XV. And be it enacted, That if any person or persons shall, after the publication hereof, cast, carry, draw out, or lay, any dead horse or other dead carcase, or any excrement or filth from vaults, privies, or necessary houses, and shall leave such carcase, carrion, or filth, without burying the same a sufficient depth in the ground, on any part of the commons of said town, on or near any of the streets, lanes, alleys, or highways, within the said town, or district adjoining the town, every person or persons so offending, and convicted thereof before any justice of the peace, shall forfeit and pay, for every such offence, the sum of thirty shillings.

On persons laying dead carcases on commons, &c.

XVI. And be it enacted, That if any person or persons shall, after the publication hereof, cast or throw any carrion or filth whatsoever, or other annoyance or obstruction, into the river in said town, or into the basin, and shall thereof be convicted before any justice of the peace, every such offender shall, for every such offence, forfeit and pay a sum of money not exceeding forty shillings, as the said justice shall think reasonable.

On throwing filth into the river, &c.
