Passed Jan. 16.

An ACT to lay out and establish a road from the city of Annapolis to the city of Washington, and to repeal the act therein mentioned.

Preamble.

WHEREAS by a resolve of the general assembly, passed at November session, one thousand seven hundred and ninety-six, commissioners were authorized and empowered to examine the situation of the country between the city of Washington and the city of Annapolis, and ascertain and determine the direction and position of the nearest, most convenient and practicable road, that could be laid off between the said two places, and report the same, with a plot thereof, to the next general assembly: And whereas the said commissioners have undertaken and completed the same, and returned a plot of the said road, and it appearing from said plot, that the said commissioners have carried the road in such a direction that it will pass over the Eastern Branch, one mile, or thereabouts, above the ferry kept by Matthew Wigfield, at a place where it will be necessary to make a causeway at a considerable expence; and it also appearing that the said road will more certainly, and with more expedition, be brought into use, if the location thereof should be altered, so that the same may pass over at the ferry kept by Matthew Wigfield; therefore,

Commissioners appointed, &c.

II. BE IT ENACTED, by the General Assembly of Maryland, That Thomas Duckett, Levi Gantt and Jacob Duckett, of Prince-George's county, and William Harwood, Leonard Sellman, Edward Hall and James Williams, of Anne-Arundel county, shall be and are hereby appointed commissioners of said road, and that they, or any four of them, be and are hereby authorized to alter the location of said road, so that the same shall pass over the Eastern Branch at the ferry kept by Matthew Wigfield as aforesaid, and when the direction shall be altered, the said commissioners, or any four of them, may and shall cause the plot of said road to correspond with such location.

Who are to open a road, &c.

III. AND BE IT ENACTED, That the said commissioners, or any four of them, are hereby authorized and empowered to open, clear and grub said road, not exceeding thirty feet wide; and the said road, so opened, cleared and grubbed, shall be recorded among the records of Anne-Arundel
