CHAPTER 134.

An act for the benefit of Sarah B. Parker, of Calvert County.

Passed Jan.
25, 1814

WHEREAS, Sarah B. Parker, by her petition has set forth to this general assembly, that some time in the year one thousand seven hundred and ninety, she intermarried with a certain Levin Parker, at which time she was possessed of a considerable real and personal property, that the said Parker sold at different times the whole of her personal estate and left her, since which time she has never heard from him, that since his departure his life estate in the real estate has been sold by the sheriff, which has deprived her of every means of support, and praying the legislature to pass a law authorising her to sell her reversionary interest in said land, and the prayer of the petitioner being reasonable; Therefore,

Preamble

Section 1. BE IT ENACTED by the General Assembly of Maryland, That Sarah B. Parker, wife of the said Levin Parker, shall be, and she is hereby authorized to sell and convey her reversionary interest in all the property which belonged to her at the time of her marriage and all which has since descended to her.

She may dispose of her reversionary interest.
