

cessary for the use and consumption of his family and cattle, under the penalty of one dollar for every cord of fire-wood, and fifty cents for every hundred weight of hay, so purchased, dealt or bartered for, contrary to this act. CHAP. 159.

25. And be it enacted, That if any person appointed to weigh hay and cord fire-wood as aforesaid, shall refuse or delay to weigh the hay or cord the fire-wood which he shall be required to weigh or cord, either by the purchaser or seller, pursuant to the directions of this act, such person shall forfeit and pay the sum of one dollar for every refusal or delay. Penalty for refusing to weigh, &c.

26. And be it enacted, That if any person, having brought fire-wood or hay to the said town for sale, and having sold the same, shall afterwards refuse to suffer such fire-wood to be corded, packed and measured, or such hay to be unpacked and weighed, by the person to be appointed as aforesaid for these purchasers, (the same having been required by the purchaser to be done,) such person shall forfeit and pay the sum of two dollars for every refusal. Penalty on persons refusing to have hay weighed, &c.

27. And be it enacted, That it shall not be lawful for any person or persons to keep or raise any geese or swine within the limits of the said town, except in pens or other enclosures, and if any geese or swine shall be found going at large within the said town, it shall be lawful for the bailiff of the said town, upon the information of any of the inhabitants thereof, or upon his own view, to seize all such geese and swine, and to secure the same in some common pound, to be provided by the said commissioners for that purpose, and all and every such geese and swine, so seized and secured, shall be forfeited for the benefit of the said town, and shall be sold at public auction to the highest bidder, and the profits arising from the sale thereof, (except the sum of ten cents for every goose, and the sum of twenty-five cents for every swine, to be retained by the said bailiff for his trouble,) shall be accounted for and rendered by the bailiff to the said commissioners, to be applied by them for the use and advantage of the said town; Provided nevertheless, that the owner or owners of the said geese and swine, or some person for them, may within one day after the impounding thereof, redeem the same, by paying to the bailiff the sum of twenty-five cents for every such goose, and the sum of one dollar for every such swine so seized and secured, and the said bailiff to be entitled to the same pay for taking up and impounding the said geese and swine as is allowed him in case of their being forfeited and sold, and to account for the balance to the said commissioners; and moreover, every person who shall keep or raise any geese or swine except in pens or other enclosures, or shall willingly suffer any such geese or swine to go at large within the said town, shall forfeit and pay the sum of fifty cents for every goose, and the sum of two dollars for every swine, so kept or raised or going at large contrary to the provisions of this act. Geese or swine not to be raised except in pens

28. And be it enacted, That whenever it shall be judged necessary by the said commissioners to assess and levy any sum or sums of money on the inhabitants and owners of property in the said town, for any of the purposes and subject to the provisions herein before mentioned, the said commissioners shall make out a fair and alphabetical list of every person chargeable with such Levy, if necessary, may be made on owners of property