CHAPTER 54.

An act ceding to the United States the jurisdiction of the State of Maryland, in, to, and over certain lands on Thomas' Point and Poole's Island.

Passed Jan. 13, 1825.
Preamble.

WHEREAS, it hath been represented to the general assembly, that by virtue of an act of Congress passed May the sixth, eighteen hundred and twenty four, entitled, "An act to authorise the building of light houses, light vessels and beacons therein mentioned, and for other purposes," the agent of the United States has purchased or contracted for the purchase of the necessary quantity of land for the erection of a light house on Poole's Island, and another on Thomas' Point; And whereas, this legislature duly appreciates the great advantages resulting from the erection of light houses, and is desirous to promote the completion of so useful an object; Therefore,

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That the right of jurisdiction of the state of Maryland, in and over the land purchased by the United States from Jeremiah Townley Chase, and conveyed by deed, bearing date the twenty sixth day of August eighteen hundred and twenty four, and recorded among the land records of Anne Arundel county, in liber W. S. G. No. 10, folio four hundred and eighteen, four hundred and nineteen, and four hundred and twenty, and also the right of jurisdiction, in, and over the land purchased, or to be purchased from Peregrine Wethered on Poole's Island, be, and the same are hereby relinquished, ceded, and made over to the United States, for the purposes aforesaid.

Jurisdiction ceded,
