Signum

The foregoing articles being distinctly read, and Explained to the Emperor he is much rejoiced that these are the terms upon which his Excellency thinks fit to conclude the Peace with him and shall be inviolably kept on the part of the English, as it is hoped will be also on their part.

The Emperor himself is satisfied therewith and engaged for the strict observeing and keeping all and every the said Articles -

He is sorry that it happens to be so poor with them at present as it is having some out for Bassa, Thins, and such like to prevent his Excellency with at this time, but prays his Excellency to accept thereof as a token of their love and friendship

How long these strange Injurers were away them design to stay with him -
Some of them intend to tarry the year out, and for the rest he knows not how long -

It is desired that they are to ascertain whether they are Injurers or other which reasons they may be, and therefore they are desired to detain and keep them among them a week or two longer in which time his Excellency will provide and send to them a Person that understands the Language of these Indians to enquire and discover what they are, and their business in these parts -

It is desired and required that the Injurer will use his endeavour to find out and discover these Injurers that committed the late Violence upon his Majesty in Justice (as they are reported) and to Communicate the same to Major Ingham and he will endeavour to find out the same and if he can make any Discovery will Communicate it to Major Ingham as is desired -

He intreats moreover his Excellency that no persons may be permitted to carry any strange Liquors to the feet among his Indians, but that his Excellency will please to grant him an Order to Prohibit the same -

The same is granted and Order shall be given accordingly. If any English should abuse the Indians or obstruct them in their Liberty of thinking, speaking or joining, they must forth with Expressly Complain and make the same known to the next Magistrate who shall be ordered to do them Justice -

The Articles being mutually signed and sealed by his Excellency and the said Emperor, were committed to the Custody and keeping of Major Ingham for his Indians upon all Occasions to have recourse unto -

The present Design for the Injurer and his great men was now being desired to him wherewith he declared himself satisfied gave thanks for the same and took his leave -
