17th May 1692.

The last Message from the house by Mr. Hammond and Mr. Bridgely appearing very strange and new to this Board they cannot but signify their regretment thereof as a matter too much intrenching on the Prerogative of the King in whose power were it is to make Peace or War, and that consequently the Peace lately concluded by his representative the Governor with the Advice and Consent of his Council is the sufficient of its self without the help of an Act or Law to confirm the same; and therefore here it will be no further urged; this Board being desirous rather to judge it to the mistake than design of the house in moving the same and if the house desire to peruse the articles made for their information they may at request have papers thereof sent them. —
