

On motion, RESOLVED unanimously, That after the day shall elapse on which the decision of the senate shall take place on any question, bill or resolution, a motion to reconsider the subject thereof shall not be admitted, unless with the consent of every member present in the senate, and if any such motion shall be made during the day on which a decision shall take place, the same shall be determined on immediately.

The senate adjourns till to-morrow morning 9 o'clock.

S A T U R D A Y, December 12, 1789.

THE senate met. Present as on yesterday, except Samuel Hughes, Esquire. The proceedings of yesterday were read.

Mr. Digges, from the house of delegates, delivers to the president a bill, entitled, An act to ascertain the mode of trial in certain cases, endorsed; "By the house of delegates, November 16, 1789: Read the first time and ordered to lie on the table.

"By order, W. HARWOOD, clk.
"By the house of delegates, December 11, 1789: Read the second time and will pass.
"By order, W. HARWOOD, clk."

Which was read the first time and ordered to lie on the table.
And also a bill, entitled, An act to authorize and empower the justices of Prince-George's county to assess and levy on the inhabitants of said county the sum of one hundred and fifty pounds current money for the purposes therein mentioned, endorsed; "By the house of delegates, December 11, 1789: Read the first and second time by especial order and will pass.
"By order, W. HARWOOD, clk."

Which was read the first time and ordered to lie on the table.

The resolution respecting James John Skinner, was read the second time and dissented to.
The bill, entitled, An act for the removal of the seat of justice from Melvill's Warehouse to Chop-tank Bridge, in Caroline county; the bill, entitled, An act to enable the justices of Saint-Mary's county court to assess a sum of money on the said county for the support of an idiot, the child of Benjamin Bradburn, of the said county; the bill, entitled, An additional supplement to an act, entitled, An act for the securing the title of the proprietors of lots and houses in Charles-town, in Charles county, passed November, seventeen hundred and seventy-nine; were, with the resolution respecting James John Skinner, sent to the house of delegates by John Hall, Esquire.

The resolution respecting Richard Waters and John Eccleston, of Dorchester county, was read the second time and dissented to.

The resolution respecting Thomas Alexander Thompson, was read the second time and dissented to.
On motion, ORDERED, That the bill, entitled, An act directing the time, places and manner, of holding elections for representatives of this state in the congress of the United States, and for appointing electors on the part of this state for choosing a president and vice-president of the United States, and for the regulation of the said elections, and also to repeal the act of assembly therein mentioned, be taken into consideration on Tuesday next.

The resolution in favour of Nicholas Merryman, was read the second time and dissented to.
The resolution respecting Patrick Hamilton, was read the second time and dissented to.

On motion, Leave was given to bring in a bill, entitled, An act to impose a duty upon every law or resolution enacted or passed upon private applications; which was read the first time and ordered to lie on the table.

The senate adjourns till Monday morning 9 o'clock.

M O N D A Y, December 14, 1789.

THE senate met. Present as on Saturday. The proceedings of Saturday were read.
Mr. Crabb, from the house of delegates, delivers to the president a bill, entitled, An act to regulate the inspection of tobacco, endorsed; "By the house of delegates, November 28, 1789: Read the first time and ordered to lie on the table.

"By order, W. HARWOOD, clk.
"By the house of delegates, December 12, 1789: Read the second time and will pass.
"By order, W. HARWOOD, clk."

Which was read the first time and ordered to lie on the table.
And also the following message:

BY THE HOUSE OF DELEGATES, DECEMBER 12, 1789.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR HONOURS,
THE desire that the members of this house have to return to their respective homes, have determined us to rise on Saturday next, being convinced that the necessary business, of a public nature, may be completed by that time, and that all private business not finished by that day will be postponed to the next session. This house propose to adjourn to the last day of September next.

By order, W. HARWOOD, clk.

Which was read and ordered to lie on the table.

Mr. Mason, from the house of delegates, delivers to the president the following message: