Agreeable to the order of the day, the bill, entitled, An act for a further addition to Baltimoretown, was read the second time and will not pass.

Agreeable to the order of the day, the resolution in favour of Rachel Cowden, was read the second time and dissented to.

On motion, Ordered, I hat the bill, entitled, An act for the amendment of the law in certain cases, be committed to William Cooke, Robert Smith, Charles Goldsborough, John Campbell and Matthew Tilghman, Esquires, to consider and report thereon.

The clerk of the house of delegates delivers to the clerk of the senate a bill, entitled, An act to ratify an amendment of the constitution of the United states of America, proposed by congress to the legislatures of the several states, thus endorsed; "By the house of delegates, November 28, "1794: Read the first and second time by especial order and will pass. "By order,

W. HARWOOD, clk."

Which said bill was ordered to lie on the table.

The bill, entitled, An act to repeal and alter a part of an act of assembly therein mentioned, was read the second time, and will pass with the proposed amendments.

Amendments proposed. In the fifth line of the preamble, after the word "injuries," strike out the words "have arisen to the inhabitants of the vicinity of the said town," and insert the words "may arise." Strike out the enacting clause, and insert as follows: "Be it enacted, by the general affembly of Maryland, That the forseitures and penalties imposed and prescribed by the said twentyfirst section of the aforesaid act, so far as the same may relate to geese and swine belonging to, and usually kept upon, any plantation or place without the limits of said town, whether such geese or fwine be the property of any inhabitant of the said town, or of any other person, shall be and the same are hereby revoked and repealed, and in lieu of such forseitures and penalties in the cases aforesaid, the owner or owners of such geese and swine shall be liable to forseit and pay the sum of three-pence for every goofe, and one shilling for every hog, so seized and secured, as directed by the aforesaid fection of the said act, or by this act, to be retained by the bailist for his trouble and expence in feizing, securing and keeping the same.

"And be it enacted, That if, in the cases above mentioned, the owner shall not, within the space of two days after such seizure, apply for such geese or swine, and thereupon pay the said bailist the sum above directed, the bailiff shall, not less than on one day's notice by advertisement at the court-house door, dispose of such geese and swine at public sale, and pay the money arising therefrom to the town commissioners, who shall allow the bailiss the sum of nine-pence for every goose, and one shilling and three-pence for every hog, for his trouble and expences as aforesaid, and retain for the benefit of the town the sum of nine-pence for every goose, and two shillings and six-pence for every hog, and upon application being made to them, shall pay the balance to the owner or owners, and unless such application be made to the said commissioners, or some one of them, within one month after such sale, or at the next stated meeting of the commissioners, the whole account of such sales shall be forfeited for the use of the town; and all geese or swine, raised or kept within the said town, and being the property of any person not an inhabitant thereof, shall be liable to be forseited, in the same manner, and under such circumstances, as they would be under the twenty-first section of the act aforesaid, if they were the property of an inhabitant of the said town.

"Provided always, and be it enacted, That the bailiff shall not be authorised, either by virtue of the twenty-first section of the act aforesaid, or of this law, to seize any geese of swine going at large in the said town, until after the commissioners shall have laid off and ascertained the limits of the said town, nor unless the same be found going at large in some of the ascertained and opened streets, lanes or alleys of the fame.

"And be it enacted, That until a common pound be provided by the commissioners, it shall be lawful for the bailiff to make use of some private enclosure for the purpose of securing any geese or swine sound going at large in the said town, and in such case shall, immediately upon the seizure and fecuring of any geefe or twine, advertise the same at the court-house door.

"And be it enacted, That one or two only of the faid commissioners shall, in the absence of the others, have the same power of adjourning that is now vested in a majority of them."

John Eager Howard, Esquire, has leave of absence until Monday 8th December. The senate adjourns until to-morrow morning 10 o'clock.

S \mathbf{R} Y, November 29, D A 1794.

THE senate met. Present the same members as on yesterday, except John Eager Howard, Esquire, who had leave of absence. The proceedings of yesterday were read.

The bill, entitled, An act for a further addition to Baltimore-town, the bill, entitled, An act to repeal and alter a part of an act of affembly therein mentioned, with its amendments, and the bill, entitled, An act to enable the vestry of Saint-Paul's parish, in Baltimore county, to purchase one or more parcels of ground for the purposes therein mentioned, together with the resolution in favour of Rachel Cowden, were all fent to the house of delegates by the clerk.

On motion, Robert Smith, Esquire, brings in and delivers a bill, entitled, A supplement to an act, entitled, An act to empower the commissioners of Baltimore-town to make a correct survey of the faid town, and for other purpoles therein mentioned; which faid bill was read the first time and ordered to lie on the table.

The clerk of the house of delegates returns the bill, entitled, An act to enable the vestry of Saint-Paul's parish, in Baltimore county, to purchase one or more parcels of ground for the purposes therein