

By the SENATE, December 5, 1806.

Gentlemen of the House of Delegates,

WE have received your message of this morning, and agree to proceed immediately to the election of a senator to represent this state in the senate of the United States, and have appointed Mr. Williams and Mr. Partridge to join the gentlemen named by you to examine the ballots. No person is put in nomination by the senate in addition to those named in your message.

By order,

T. ROGERS, clk.

The senate then proceeded to the election of a senator from the eastern shore to represent this state in the senate of the United States; the ballot box being prepared, the ballots were deposited therein, sealed up, and delivered to the committee of the senate appointed to meet the committee of the house of delegates, who retired to the conference room, and after examining the ballots returned and reported, that Philip Reid had forty-five votes, Richard T. Earle thirty-four votes, and William Hayward one vote.

Whereupon it is declared in the senate, that Philip Reid, having had a majority of the votes of all the attending members of both houses, is duly elected a senator to represent this state in the senate of the United States from the third day of March next until the fourth day of March, eighteen hundred and thirteen.

The clerk of the house of delegates delivers a bill, entitled, An act supplementary to an act, entitled, An act to incorporate the stockholders in the Union Bank of Maryland, a bill, entitled, An act authorising a lottery for raising a sum of money for the rector and vestry of St. Thomas's parish in Baltimore county, a bill, entitled, An act for the relief of James Cruikshanks, of Kent county, severally passed by that house December 5, 1806; which were severally read the first time and ordered to lie on the table.

The senate adjourns until to-morrow morning 9 o'clock.
