 Amendment proposed. Strike out the first resolution and insert "Resolved, That although the legislature of Maryland entertain no doubt but that the prohibition of the importation of slaves into these United States is a measure most earnestly to be desired, and did, by a resolution passed in the year eighteen hundred and five, instruct their senators and representatives in the congress of the United States, to use their utmost exertions, as soon as the same was practicable, to obtain an amendment to the federal constitution, so as to authorise and empower congress to pass a law to prevent the importation of slaves, but as the period when congress will be empowered without such amendment to legislate upon the subject, and by law prohibit such importation, has now so nearly arrived as to render it probable that the adoption of the amendment at this time would not accelerate the measure; therefore the legislature of Maryland do not at this time deem it expedient to adopt the amendment proposed by the state of Tennessee."
