So it was resolved in the affirmative.

On motion by Mr. Dorsey, the question was put, that the first resolution be stricken out? Resolved in the affirmative. The question was then put, that the following be substituted :

Resolved, That it never was contemplated by the constitution and the law, that when they trusted to the President of the United States the power of calling out the militia in certain emergencies, that he should, by perverted and strained interpretations, at his discretion, use that power in the absence of those emergencies; and that the calling out the militia as aforesaid, without the existence of either of the emergencies recognized by the constitution or the law, is an open and dangerous assumption of power, alike inconsistent with the right of the state, and the convenience of our immediate constituents.

The yeas and nays being required, appeared as follows :

AFFIRMATIVE.
