

The question was then put, will the senate agree to the following message :

BY THE SENATE, Dec. 11, 1812.

Gentlemen of the House of Delegates,

We have rejected your bill entitled, an act for the encouragement of learning and erecting schools in the several counties within this state, for the renewal of the charters of the several banks therein mentioned and for other purposes. We consider ourselves precluded by the provisions of the constitution, from making any amendments in the usual form to this bill in consequence of some of its provisions which give it the character of a money bill, and we regret that your house should have blended (inadvertently we presume) such matter with it. Considering the bill of great importance as it regards the establishment of a system of education we are anxious to pass it, and hope on reconsideration you will agree to strike out all those parts which constitute it a money bill and originate a separate bill appropriating money to carry the object into effect.

By order,

THOS. ROGERS, Clk.

Resolved in the affirmative.

The following message was read and agreed to :

BY THE SENATE, Dec. 11, 1812.

When your message was received accompanying the bill entitled, an act for the valuation of real and personal property within this state, requesting a reconsideration of the same, a bill of a similar nature was under the consideration of the senate, which they have since passed.
