

sing through congress, you were pleased to return a message proposing to go into the election, to which this house could not in duty to the freemen of Maryland their constituents, accede, as your body selected a moment when several members were absent through severe illness; the effect of which would have been to defeat the expression of the public voice at the late election. Since which we have urged you by several messages to proceed to the discharge of this momentous duty. We again beg leave to call your attention to this subject, and solicit your house no longer to deny to the people of Maryland the privilege and benefit of a full representation in the senate of the United States.
