BY THE HOUSE OF DELEGATES, January 29, 1816.

Gentlemen of the Senate,

We return you the bill entitled, a supplement to an act entitled, an act for filling up and extending of certain lots on the south side of the basin of Baltimore. We hope on re-consideration you will recede from your amendments.

By order,

LOUIS GASSAWAY Clk

Which was read:

On motion the question was put, will the senate re-consider the said amendments? Resolved in the affirmative.

The amendments being read, viz: 1st, strike out the second enacting clause in the following words, to wit: "And be it enacted, that the said five persons shall have full power and authority, and they are hereby required to determine whether the said corporation instead of being injured by reason of extending and wharfing out those lots in the manner they are to be done, taking all circumstances into consideration, are not benefitted thereby, and if so to what amount, which sum the mayor and city council shall cause to be paid to Christopher Hughes, the proprietor of said lots, his executors, administrators or assigns within six months from the time the said award shall be filed with the said Register.

2d. Strike out the following words, viz: "Which said jury shall be authorised and required to determine whether the said corporation was not benefitted, and to what amount, in the same manner as the said five persons might have done, and that the said mayor and city council shall pay the said sum to the said Christopher Hughes, his executors, administrators, or assigns in the same manner as if the same had been determined by the said arbitrators."

The question was put, will the senate recede therefrom? The yeas and nays being required appeared as follow:
