Determined in the affirmative. The question was then put, Will the senate adhere to the amendment heretofore made to the said bill? Determined in the affirmative and the bill and amendment were returned to the house of delegates.

Mr. Miller offered the following message; which was read, assented to, and sent to the house of delegates:

BY THE SENATE, Jan. 29th, 1825.

Gentlemen of the House of Delegates,

We received your message of the 27th inst. with the bill, entitled, A supplement to an act, entitled, An act to increase the pay of the judges of the orphans court for the several counties therein mentioned, stating that you have rejected the amendment proposed therein and expressing a hope that upon further consideration, we will pass the bill. As the amendment does not propose to give the judges of Cecil county orphans court more than what is allowed to judges of several of the orphans courts in the state, nor more than what we conceive their services justly entitle them to, we upon due consideration, adhere to our amendment.

By order,

W. KILTY, Clk.
