

of the property conveyed by said deed, cannot be ascertained from said bill; if the grantee, or those claiming under him, have been in possession of the property conveyed, and so continue long enough to be availed by the statute of limitations, no further relief will be requisite. If the amount of property in question is too small to induce the grantee to seek relief by a suit in equity, it will probably be too small to induce an adverse claimant to disturb his possession by suit at law.

By order,

William Kilty, Clerk.

The clerk of the house of delegates delivered a bill entitled, an act to prevent boats and other vessels from taking sand from that part of the eastern branch of the Potomac, lying and being in Prince George's county, which was read the first time, and referred to messrs.
