

The bill, entitled, An act further supplemental to the act of December session 1827, chapter 111, entitled, An act to regulate sales by public auction, was read a third time, rejected, and returned to the house of delegates.

The bill, entitled, An act supplementary to the act, entitled, An act to regulate the issuing of licenses to traders, keepers of ordinaries, and others, passed at December session 1827, was taken up for consideration.

Mr. Kennedy moved to amend the bill by striking out from the word "Maryland" in the 2d line of the 1st section, to the end of the bill, which is in these words: "That in all cases where the grand juries under the original act to which this is a supplement, shall have reported to the courts the names of any person or persons as unfit or improper person or persons to have license, and in all cases where they shall hereafter so report, the several courts shall have power to grant to any of such person or persons a license to retail all other kinds of goods, wares and merchandise, other than spirituous liquors, or to grant to any such person or persons a license as a victualler, which said license shall not authorise such person or persons to sell spirituous liquors.

Sect. 2d. And be it enacted, That any person or persons thinking him or herself aggrieved by the representation of a grand jury, shall have the right of an appeal to the county courts, and a trial by jury, provided, that the appeal be made to the same or next succeeding term"—For the purpose of inserting the following in lieu thereof, viz. "That the proviso contained in the 3d section of the act of December session 1827, chapter 117, be and the same is hereby repealed."

And the question was put and determined in the negative.

On motion of Mr. Forrest, the said bill was amended by striking out the 2d section.

The bill having been read a third time and amended, the question was put, Shall the bill as amended pass? Determined in the negative.

So the bill was rejected.

Mr. Thomas, from the committee on ways and means, made a favourable report upon the resolution in favour of John Quynn and Andrew Slicer.

The said resolution was then read a second, and by special order a third time, and assented to.
