

And a bill entitled, an act to restrain the intemperate use of spirituous liquors.

Mr. Chapman from the committee on finance to which was referred the resolution relative to the free school fund, reported that the committee had had said resolution under consideration, and were of opinion it ought not to be assented to.

It was then read the second, and by special order the third time, dissented from and returned to the house of delegates.

The resolution in favor of William Riley and others, was read the third time and dissented from.

Mr. Mayer submitted the following message, which was read, adopted, and with the resolution to which it refers sent to the house of delegates.

By the Senate,

March 14, 1832.

Gentlemen of the House of Delegates,

We have rejected the resolution of your honorable body in favor of William Riley and others, under a belief that the persons provided for by the resolution are equitably entitled to a release of interest only from the time when judgment was rendered in their favor in the county court to the time when after the decision of the court of appeals judgment was rendered against them in the county court. We would therefore respectfully suggest that the resolution be amended in your honorable body according to the view we have expressed, and returned for the further consideration of the senate.

By order,

Jos: H. Nicholson, Clk.

Mr. Mayer from the committee on judicial proceedings to which was referred the bill entitled, an act to condemn and make public a certain piece or lot of ground therein mentioned, reported the said bill with the following amendment, which was read and assented to.

At the end of the bill add

'And by ordinance in which they shall provide for a jury trial in the case of the said appeals for the parties appealing.'
