By the House of Delegates,
February 21, 1833.

Gentlemen of the Senate,

We return to you the resolution in favour of Meshach Browning, of Alleghany county, dissented from by your honorable body on yesterday, and respectfully request that you will reconsider the same, this is a case from its nature, extremely oppressive to the individual; that he should neither have the land he paid for, nor his money refunded, would be illiberal, it surely would not be sound policy for the state to adopt a doctrine that funds of individuals should be received into the treasury without a valuable consideration be given therefor, and the party claiming would not now be paid, or fairly reinstated, even if a new warrant for vacant land should be granted him, owing to all the vacant lands now in the county, being of very inconsiderable value, and remote from his residence, and where the original survey was situated; hence the propriety of his claim for the reimbursement of the money, is respectfully submitted for reconsideration.
