

thereto, any attachment shall issue against the lands, tenements, goods, chattels, or credits, of any corporate body, the said corporate body may in cases where a natural person is defendant might by entering special bail to the action dissolve such attachment, dissolve the same by entering into bond with security as the court shall direct and appear for paying and satisfying the judgment that may be rendered against said corporate body, in the said cause. And said corporate body may appear in the said use of attachment and by pleading and otherwise contest the claim of the plaintiff or plaintiffs, although no dissolution as aforesaid shall take place; the said attachment however remaining and continuing, notwithstanding in full force and effect, and on the issues or pleading, or part of the corporate body judgment on the cause of action may be rendered against such corporate body as well as judgment of condemnation in the attachment."

The bill was then read the second, and by special order the third time, passed and returned to the house of delegates.

On motion of Mr. Hughlett the report heretofore made by the committee on pensions and revolutionary claims relative to the resolution in favor of James Frazier, was read and concurred in.

Mr. Hughlett submitted the following message, which was read and adopted:

By the Senate,

22nd March, 1838.

Gentlemen of the House of Delegates,

We beg leave to inform you that the resolution from your honorable body in favor of James Frazer of the city of Annapolis, was referred to the committee on revolutionary claims, which committee, on the 12th March instant, reported unfavorably thereon; the resolution and report were ordered to lie on the table. The report of the committee, this day has been concurred in and the resolution consequently rejected; but after examination by the clerk it is ascertained that the resolution is mislaid, and cannot be found, so as to be returned to your honorable body. We have adopted this mode of apprising you of the determination of the senate relative to said resolution.

By order,

Joseph H. Nicholson, Clk.