

tended to the waters of Baltimore, Cecil, Kent and Queen Anne's counties, as low down the Chesapeake Bay as Wye River inclusive.

Add to the title of the bill, "and for other purposes."

The bill was then read the second and by special order the third time passed and returned to the house of delegates.

The bill entitled, a supplement to an act entitled, an act to provide for the inspection of plaster of paris in the city of Baltimore, passed at December session 1832, chapter 282.

Was read the second time, and ordered to be engrossed for a third reading.

On motion of Mr. Groome,

It was ordered, that when the senate adjourn it shall stand adjourned until to-morrow morning 10 o'clock.

The bill entitled, an act to extend to the high court of chancery and to the county courts sitting as courts of equity, jurisdiction in cases of divorce.

Was read the second time, when on motion of Mr. Groome.

The following amendment was read and assented to

And be it enacted, That in cases of absolute divorce, a vinculo matrimonii, decreed for or on account of adultery in either of the parties it shall not be lawful for the party or parties so offending to contract marriage again during the life time of the other party, provided nothing herein contained shall be construed to exclude from marriage the party against whom such offence shall not be alleged and proved during the progress of the proceedings for divorce before the said court of chancery or county court, sitting as a court of equity.

The question was then put,

"Shall the bill be engrossed for a third reading?"
