

Neither shall he obtain procure or accept of any Land within this Province from any Indian to his Owner the use of any other then of the Lord Proprietary or his heirs nor shall hold or possess any land within this Province by virtue of such Grant upon pain that every person offending to the contrary hereof shall for full and true love to the Lord Proprietary and his heirs all such Lands so accepted or held without Grant of the Lord Proprietary or under him this act to Continue to the End of the next General Assembly

An Act for trade with the Indians X

Whereas the Crown of England by right of first Discovery became Lord and Possessor of this Province and other Countries thereunto adjoining so that no Subject of his Majesty or any other Foreign Prince or State whatsoever might or could lawfully come into these Parts to trade with the Indians thereof without Leave or License from or under the said Crown of England According as his said Majesty's right is practised allowed and acknowledged in all other parts so according to the said Crown by right of discovery

And whereas his Majesty being so Possessed by his Letters Patents to the right Honorable Cecilius Lord granted & Confirmed unto the said Cecilius all this Province with all Rights thereunto belonging saving only the Sovereign Allegiance due to the Crown of England & him the said Cecilius did create & constitute absolute Lord and Proprietary thereof who by virtue of his said