

House being altogether ignorant of the proceedings that if any person had papers are presented on, as House would be pleased to may be better able to understand some time of Upper House, & by the House of Upper House respected

That they were drawing it Judge is most respectful House, they fully intended House as to the of i to have debate to as to the

By the Major Vote. To return to their own House, there only debate, & vote as formerly.

Then Mr. Thomas Trahern came from the Upper House, and presented the following paper to the Speaker.

To the paper sent by the Lower House dated 25th April 1764 into the Upper House. We reply that we are glad they are sensible of the miscarriage in sending the paper first sent 24th instants. But there being a second paper sent the same day the same complexion, as in the former and not appointed Acts sent by the Upper House to them of our little importance but the Ruin or welfare of the whole Province. To one of us they doe flatly say, that they will not consent upon any terms, but their own. And after in the Case of all, that they are resolved. have no further debate thereon. This House have not cause to think the affairs are not carried on in a due orderly way; for