

There will be found in this volume an Occasional Hiatus, which was absolutely unavoidable - Such being the injury sustained by some of the Journals of Proceedings from damp and vermin. Yet, Nothing of importance, which can lessen its value as a Historical Document, it is believed, has been even thus left out - Notwithstanding, the state of decay into which the Journals had fallen, for want of a proper attention and care to their preservation.