

This Committee say upon severall ^{several} ~~several~~ ^{perusable} ~~perusable~~ and Examination thereof they perceive the Indians built their faith upon Reports that Colonel Addison and others should say such things of them, but whether true or noe, they had no certain grounds, for they never went to the Governour to Enquire; but on the contrary the Committee find the English had some Reasons even from their own Mouths to suspect them for that Murder, and for which they ought either to acquitt themselves or make some Satisfaction for

And therefore it may be proposed to them that if they will discover the Murderers if they know them, he or they shall be freely pardoned, and him or them freely ^{and unto the same articles of peace} that were last made with them upon their renewing and confirming them, and if they will not or cannot finde and deliver the Murderers that then, the Indians make payment of 80 best buckshens, for the value of the Negroe and in such tyme as 4. persons appointed to treat with them shall consent to.

That upon the performance of either of these proposals, returning to the place of their former abode or elsewhere neare the English as shall be agreed on, all former Injuries to be passed by and pardoned, and particularly the Annacoftian King to be Received into the same Articles of peace and friendship with the Rest;

As to their allegation of having their Lands purchased from them and their Come fields pulled downe, and there being blamed for killing the Choggs: We conceive it may be proposed to them that the English do not care for their Land being in no want of it.

And if any persons have Sertes within their Bounds, it is not by Direction of the Government nor by their Consent, and if such persons have not the Indians Consent for it, they shall either make them Satisfaction or Remove as the Government shall think fitt.

And if they are blamed about the English stocks, it may be cause for it, nor can the Government prevent private suspicions, but doe assure them they shall not be punished without due proof made against them according to the proceedings against others.

And as to the English pulling downe their fences, if they can make any such thing appear they shall be called to account for the same. And if Proved ag^t them punished according to the Law of the Country.

And for Speedy relief in these Cases fitting persons shall be appointed adjacent from whence upon application made, Redress shall be had. ^{gally} That as to their Refusall of returning and securing themselves from coming to this assembly, It may be observed to them, that as the Government will not do any Injustice or impose any unreasonable task upon them, so they cannot but Repent it very ill of them by this Rashness,
