

... and the same manner this trade must grow
... maintenance of the
... 1642

labour may have any dimin you will be thoroughly benefited and all our fellow Subjects in America will certainly benefit the importation of all necessaries from England of their own cheaper than at present the want of which and their dear dearness has been and is still very burthensome and ruinous to the indigent people of this Country

These truly Royall and saving Concessions must ever be depos'd in the memory of all Loyall good Subjects. Nor let it be said Maryland was ungrateful to see good & gracious a Sovereign who do's us of so much wisdom goodness and steady application endeavour the prospering of England and all its dependants.

Mr. Speaker. Your Majesty earnestly recommends the erecting of new ports which must certainly render you considerable in a very short time I presume as to their number & situation Your Majesty will be advised by your Court: who best know the proper places for trade and business and the advantages naturally proceeding from such improvements are many for your own particular good I hope there is no objection convinced reasonable thinking more of it altogether nor can I think any body will obstruct this so noble generous design but a few Court: attendants who have assiduously endeavored by a certain impost to raise the produce of your Land and industry. These monopolies though they hinder you from receiving the full benefit of your own Land and industry. These monopolies prevent the full benefit of your own Land and industry prevent the full benefit of your own Land and industry

By the Honour
of the
Court
of the Virginia