

your I am obliged in justice and good nature to say, you you the ground will of his.
quitting, & command.
now that all grievances.

I am obliged to pass no law you.
of parliamentary process which is to the last night or ten hours.
of very great consequence and nature. procrastinated that at our next meeting with many of her Majesty's subjects. you Court: at I find your because of the time of a year. we least this seem to threaten or still you did not thou think it proper to enquire into a matter so very necessary for your own safety & defence.

Give us leave Court: to defend you will now apply your best partly to the business before you that is so precious a thing to all wise Councils may not be brought to a custom: by you Court: Delegates and thou I am never doubt but by calm and serious debates the many great things under your great care will be in a few days ripened into good wholesome laws fit for the Royall sanction.

And as every body knows the people of America was discovered by Englishmen in the reign of the famous renowned Queen Elizabeth I. I would have you this Province always remember us since first we so short a time, ever applyed their Royall care more emphatically for your welfare & preservation and happiness than our great glorious Monarchs.

I have had an letter from the head of the Bay the Indians intended some motion this spring and with the advice of her Majesty's Councils should have taken proper measures about it for the present But hope Court: you will enquire particularly into the truth of this affair for on our last alarm the several persons of our long and hazardous journey to bring us a report of our enemies