

There must redress be sought the best of ways: We doubt not his will and hope we can't be blamed if we endeavor to restrain their power: —

What other Causes of Complaint the Gent. your Exy mentions are known by our self cannot but enquire and take their Opportunity of Delivering you know not of every year Exy narrows them by buying slaves by your favor or Government & what your Exy is pleased to give us of the steps the manner — Particks were taking to recover their power is very Grievous and lays us under the greatest Obligations of gratitude to your Exy for so generously opposing him notwithstanding his obstinates in clear right before his Lordships: notwithstanding these their in-till servitude Practices might have possibly put you with the Inequities whereof we presume not to determine —

Shame bein: the manner and their Disorders man-their endeavors to keep indignities upon your Exy the longer is the evidence of your Exy's sincerity to the this power & Establishment in Church and State to which the manner Partolicks ~~are~~ known to have so just and reasonable both by vicissitude and principle that it can be deemed no non just in the protestants to have their Applause nor any advantage to us: their separation tion to them have been so just to your Exy's Charities — and Protestants may say to the vicissitudes of the papers: On this your Exy's former Declaration is where they had not the confidence to improve the law & effect of it on the contrary more signified their approbation of your integrity to their Lordships in. Having them with Due bounds by such gentle methods as you know may taken so we hope this Lordships will look upon my first Complaint that have or shall be made against your Exy's in Church & State as the former without good proof it being us unlikely to find proofs under your Exy's Government: without any further view: they are Letter to a Lordship