And the following Message :

By the Upper House of Assembly, June 2. 1740.

Gentlemen,

WHether, what you have insisted, does or does not tend to render any Branch of the Legislature, that should comply with it, useless or ridiculous, we must appeal to every impartial Person, who will Read the state of our present Dispute in our Message of the 31st of May, where, it cannot be said to be misrepresented: Nor can we recollect any Conduct of this House at any Time parallel to yours on this Occasion.

Whoever Reads your former Messages, must conclude, you differed with us, either because we had altered the usual Duration of your Bills on our Table; or because we would not acquaint you, what Alteration (if any) we intended to make: But by your Message of Saturday last, you seem to
