

By the Lower House of Assembly, September 28, 1745.

May it please your Honours,

IN Answer to your Message of this Day by Samuel Chamberlain, Esq; with the Journal of Accounts, this House cannot agree to add to the same the Sum of  $\text{qr}8\text{l. }14\text{s. }6\text{d. }2\text{q.}$  as desired by you; for that it does not appear to this House ever to have been the Design of the Legislative Power of this Province, to build a Governor's House by a Poll-Tax on the People.

As to the other Matters mentioned in said Message, they have been under the Consideration of this House heretofore, in this and former Sessions, and not thought reasonable to be allowed in the Journal, nor can we now agree to them: Wherefore we again herewith send you the Journal, hoping the same will be assented to by your Honours as it now stands.

Signed per Order, W. M. TILGHMAN, Cl. Lo. Ho.
