And, Gentlemen. As we think the Bill now returned you in many Parts improper, so we conceive that some Parts of it, if passed into a Law, would be so far from promoting the End which we suppose is designed, that hardly any Thing could be imagined more destructive thereto. As a Means of preventing the farther Encroachments of his Majesty's Enemies, on these his American Dominions, we apprehend we ought to encourage the Settlement of the back and remote Parts of this Province, and his Majesty's Lands behind us, with good Britis Subjects, at the same Time that his Majesty's Troops are employed against the Enemies, who have prefumed to encroach on and build Fortresses within his Majesty's Territories; but we cannot prevall with outleives to believe, that this Bill will have any such Effect, but rather that the Imposition of an additional Daty on every English Servant into this Province, seems calculated to impede such a Settlement, and we leave to your Consideration, whether it would not be better, in such a Conjuncture as the present, t encourage the Importation of loyal English Subjects by a Bounty, than to deter them from coming among us, by laying a Daty on their Heads, at their Arrival. With respect to that Clause, that imposes an additional Duty on Criminais, we fear it may be deemed to clash with his Majesty's Authority, and that by Consenting thereto, we may draw a Censure from the Throne, and run the Risque of incurring his Majesty's Distantif.

We could suggest many other Reasons against this Bill, but not doubting but what we have already offered will be sufficient to convince you of the Impropriety of the Bill in it's present Form, we hope the servent will be sufficient to convince you of the Impropriety of the Bill in it's present Form, we hope the fervent will be sufficient to convince you of the Impropriety of the Bill in it's present Form, we hope the fervent will be sufficient to convince you of the Impropriety of the Bill in it's present Form, we hope the fervent will be sufficient to convince you of the Impropriety of the Bill in it's present Form, we have already offered will be sufficient to convince you of the Impropriety of the Bill in it's present Form, we have already offered will be sufficient to convince you of the Impropriety of the Bill in it's present Form, we hope the sufficient to convince you of the Impropriety of the Bill in it's present form. Zeal, for his Majesty's Service, and the common Caufe, that actuated you to vote fuch a generous Supply, will incline you to teitify your fincere Intentions, by framing a very different Bill from that which we Signed per Order, J. Rojs, Cl. Up. Ho.

new return you.

Mr. Edward Tilghman, from the Committee of Laws, brings in and delivers to Mr. Speaker the following ingrossed Address, viz.

To the Earliesty HORATIO SHARPE, Ejq; Governor and Commander in Chief in and over the Province of MARYLAND.

The hamble ADDRESS of the House of DELEGATES.

Blog it phy by your Excellency,

S your Excellency was pleased to acquaint us, by your Message of the 21st of December last, that you A synar maced one was pleased to acquain that the Present of Five Hundred Pounds, which was granted by this had the Satisfiction to learn, that the Present of Five Hundred Pounds, which was granted by this Province in Mer last, to be made to the Six Nations of Indians, at an Interview to be held with them at Al-Land, on the 12th of 7 me last, was accepted with particular Marks of Gratitude, for the Generofity and Benevalence et the People of this Province; we cannot but presume, that the Gentlemen appointed by your I veellency to represent this Province on that Occasion, have acted the Part in that Particular for which they were commillioned, though we cannot find that Transaction made a Part of their Proceedings, by the Minutes thereof, laid before us, by your Excellency, for our Perusal.

We do not conceive those Gentlemen were intended or impowered to agree upon any Plan of a proposed Union of the several Colonies, to be laid before the Parliament of Great-Britain, with humble Application for an Act, by Virtue of which one General Government may be formed in America, and therefore do not thank ourselves obliged to take any particular Notice of their Minutes of Proceedings relative thereto; but, as it has been had open to our View, we cannot, consistent with our Duty to our Constituents, forbear to observe in general, that the carrying the said Plan into Execution would absolutely subvert that happy Form of Government which we have a Right to by our Charter, (the Freedom of which was doubtless one great Inducement to our Ancestors to leave their Friends and native Country, and venture their Lives and Fortures among a Fierce and Savage People, in a rough uncultivated World), and destroy the Rights, Libertier, and Properties of his Majerty's loyal Subjects of this Province.

Which was read and affented to, and figned, by Order of the House, by the Honourable Speaker.

Ordered, That Mr. Murdock and Mr. Earle, do acquaint his Excellency, that this House hath prepared an Address to be presented to him, and desires to know when, and where, he will please to receive it: They return and acquaint
