A letter from brigadier-general Gift was laid before the house and read, and referred to the committee appointed to consider and report on the letters of general Washington, &c.

Mr. Wright brings in and delivers to Mr. Speaker a bill, entitled, An act to enable the sheriffs of this state to take recognizances of persons taken on criminal writs, on offences less than felony; which was read the first time and ordered to lie on the table.

The house took into consideration the information given respecting the conduct and declarations of Mr. Hindman, and the evidence offered, and thereupon unanimously RESOLVED, That it appears to the house, that Mr. James Hindman, in a tavern in this city, in conversation with a number of gentlemen respecting the debate and division of the house last Thursday, on the question for calling out of circulation the state and convention money, declared, That some of the members who voted against the proposition to call in the state and convention money, were fools, that others of them were misled, and that a great part of them were villains and scoundrels; that he believed some of the members were actuated by base motives, and that particular members were rascals, scoundrels, and fools, and that one of the members was crazy, a fool, or out of his senses, and that he was influenced to give his vote from interest; and that he observed a member give a wink or a nod to the chair.

On motion, That Mr. James Hindman be informed by Mr. Speaker, that the house highly disapprove of his conduct, and the expressions uttered by him, as improper, illiberal, indecent, and highly injurious to the honour and dignity of the house, and the honour and integrity of several of the members; and that he be reprimanded, and censured for such his misconduct, and that he ask the pardon of the house, and the speaker, and the particular members reflected on by him; an amendment was proposed, and the question put, That the following words be struck out: "and the particular members reflected on by him."
