BY THE HOUSE OF DELEGATES, DECEMBER 25, 1783.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR HONOURS,

WE have assented to your first amendment to the resolution concerning the purchasers of British property, but cannot agree to adopt the second, with respect to allowing the interest due on certificates to be set off against the interest due to the state, to the amount of the interest on such certificates; we conceive the injustice in this case to be equal to that which would ensue from a general admission of the payment of all kinds of certificates in discharge of the purchases of British property. We hope your honours, when you reconsider this matter, will recede from your amendment, and agree to the resolution with the first amendment.
