The supplement to the act for the better administration of justice in the several counties of this state, with the following message:

BY THE SENATE, DECEMBER 21, 1790.

WE have sent back the bill, entitled, A Supplement to the act for the better administration of justice in the several counties of this state, and hope, on reconsideration, you will assent to it. The provisions we conceive, will improve the system of the original act, and assist the due execution of it. The propriety of not confining the executive in their choice of a chief justice to a character residing in the district for which he is to be appointed, and of prohibiting the justices from practising as attorneys, and of preventing the associates from acting as magistrates out of court in civil cases,
