

may be permitted to work thereon, and clear the same from obstructions. The committee do not mean to convey any sentiment on the subjects, whether the state of Maryland has any authority to make, or whether it has actually made to the Susquehanna canal company, a cession of the bed of the river; they conceive a difference in opinion may arise on these questions, and that it would be highly politic in the state to use the first opportunity which may occur to relieve the minds of its citizens from all doubts on a subject of so much consequence. Your committee are further of opinion, that the charter granted the Susquehanna canal company does not expire until October, 1798, before that period another session of assembly will intervene; in the mean-time it will be advisable for the general assembly to obtain whatever information may be necessary to elucidate this important subject. They therefore beg leave to recommend the adoption of sundry resolutions submitted to this house on the 5th day of December instant, and now lying on the table, as calculated to accomplish this object. All which is submitted to the house.

S. LUCKETT, clk.

THE committee to whom was referred the petition of sundry inhabitants of Dorchester county, report, that they have taken the same under consideration, and are of opinion that the prayer thereof, so far as it relates to the levy court being authorized and empowered to levy a sum of money on the county for the purpose of purchasing the lot of ground mentioned in the said petition, is proper, and ought to be granted, but your committee are not impressed with the necessity or propriety of granting the other matters applied for by the petitioners; they therefore submit the following order:

ORDERED, That leave be given to bring in a bill authorising and empowering the justices of the levy court of Dorchester county to levy a sum of money on the assessable property in said county for the purposes therein mentioned.

On motion, the question was put, That leave be given to bring in a bill to repeal such parts of the constitution and form of government as prevent a senator, delegate of the assembly, or member of the council, from being appointed to any office of profit during the time for which he shall be elected? Determined in the negative.

RESOLVED unanimously, That the president of the United States merits the everlasting gratitude of the people; that his profound wisdom in council, and eminent exertions in the field, aided by the virtue and valour of his fellow-citizens, triumphed over British invasion, and led his country through an arduous war to victory and to happiness; establishing its independence by a revolution unspiced with a crime, and distinguished for moderation, virtue and humanity. That his wise and steady administration of the general government, promptness in suppressing domestic insurrection, firmness in defeating improper exertions of foreign influence, and perseverance in the system of neutrality, have continued to us those advantages which result from a stable and free government, and have crowned us with the blessings of peace, liberty and prosperity, whilst Europe and the Indies have been convulsed with the horrors of a dreadful and desolating war.

RESOLVED unanimously, That his late paternal address, the result of much reflection and experience, is eminently calculated by its counsels to secure the continuance of the independence, peace, happiness and prosperity of our country, if steadily pursued by his successors, and firmly adhered to by the people; wisely founding the principles of our political conduct on the immovable basis of morality and justice, aided by the influence of religion, learning and virtue in private life.

RESOLVED unanimously, That to perpetuate this valuable present in the most striking view to posterity, it be printed and published with the laws of this session, as an evidence of our approbation of its political axioms, and a small testimony of the affection we bear to the precepts of Him, to whom, under Divine Providence, we are principally indebted for our greatest political blessings.

RESOLVED,
