And the following messages:

BY THE SENATE, JANUARY 8, 1803.

GENTLEMEN,

WE are anxious to bring the session to a close, and as it is very doubtful whether we shall have a sufficient number of members to form a quorum after this day, we beg leave to suggest to you the propriety of closing the session this evening, which, with your concurrence, we have no doubt may be effected.

By order,

BY THE SENATE, JANUARY 8, 1803.

J. B. DUCKETT, clk.

GENTLEMEN,

WE have declined reconsidering the bill, entitled, A further additional supplement to the act, entitled, An act for the enlargement of the powers of the high court of chancery, as in our opinion the provisions contemplated by that bill are already made by the act to which it is intended as a supplement.

Independent of the provisions of the act of seventeen hundred and eighty-five, we consider the right of appointing a trustee or trustees in the cases contemplated by your bill as inherent in the office, and an essential part of the duty of the chancellor, of course any further regulations on the subject unnecessary.

By order,

J. B. DUCKETT, clk.

Which were read,

The following message being prepared was read, agreed to, and sent to the senate by the clerk.

BY THE HOUSE OF DELEGATES, JANUARY 8, 1803.

GENTLEMEN OF THE SENATE,

IN answer to your message proposing to close the session this evening, we can confidently assure you of our ready concurrence in the measure, satisfied that the business before us may be finished so as to enable us to effect this desirable object.

By order,

W. HARWOOD, clk.
