

Adam Miller testifies, that Frederick Bagley was objected to because he was a United States soldier; there was no proof offered that he was a soldier; and he was admitted on the exhibition of his discharge, and the statement of Dr. Claude.

Doctor John Wells states, that Bazil Rouke voted at the October election. He was objected to on the ground that he was not twenty-one years of age, but by whom he does not recollect. There was no evidence that he was not entitled. His brother stated that during the war he was a stout lad; a person named Philips, stated that he was about the age of a son of his, who was of lawful age.

Doctor Dennis Claude testifies, that he has lived here for a number of years; he was admitted to vote upon the oath of Philips, who had been a neighbour of the family of Rouke, who knew his age by the age of his own son, who was more than twenty-one years of age.

James Williamson says, he knows of the same, but of no other fact than those already stated.

Jeremiah Hughes affirms, that he was not present when his vote was taken, but is well acquainted with Rouke, and the facts already stated.

Adam Miller testifies; that he was objected to on account of non age. Mr. Philips was called up to prove his age in a state of intoxication. His brother was brought up and would not swear, and his vote was taken on the evidence of Mr. Philips. There was no proof offered to the judges that he was not of age.

Doctor John Wells states, that Jesse Clark, junior, voted at the October election, and that there was no objection made to his vote.

Doctor Dennis Claude says, there was no objection made to the vote of Jesse Clark, junior.

James Williamson testifies, that there was no objection made to his vote.

Jeremiah Hughes states, that he knows that Jesse Clark, junior, is out of the employment of the person to whom he was bound as apprentice, and that he is considered as having served his time.

Adam Miller states, that there was no objection made at the time, to his vote.

Doctor John Wells testifies, that William Winchester voted at the October election, and there was no objection made to his vote.

Doctor Dennis Claude states, there was no objection made to his voting.

James Williamson testifies, that there was no objection to his vote.