

by the clerk, and then again read and debated by clauses, leaving the title and preamble to be last considered; the body of the bill shall not be defaced or interlined, but all amendments, noting the page and line, shall be duly entered by the clerk on a separate paper, as the same shall be agreed to by the committee, and so reported to the House; after report, the bill shall again be subject to be debated and amended by clauses.

45th. The rules of proceeding in the House shall be observed in a Committee of the whole House, as far as they are applicable.

46th. No standing rule or order shall be rescinded or changed, without one day's notice being given of the motion therefor. Nor shall any rule be suspended, except by a vote of at least two-thirds of the members present.

ADDITIONAL RULES

Adopted on the 27th day of January, 1829.

1. Every bill may have its first reading by its title.

2. There shall be a Standing Committee of the whole House, on the condition of the State, which may originate bills or resolutions, and may sit when required by seven members.

3. All bills of a private or local character, received from the Senate, shall be referred to a select committee of three members, to be appointed by the Speaker; and bills of a public or general character, received from the Senate, relating to subjects upon which committees have been appointed, shall be referred, severally, to the committee to which the same shall belong, respectively.
