

sage already sent by us to your honourable body this morning, renders it unnecessary for this house to say more than will suffice to express its profound sense of the obligation conferred upon it by the enumeration of our powers and duties, with which your honourable body has been pleased to favour us.

By order,

G. G. Brewer, Clk.

Which was read,

Mr. Nicholas moved to amend the same, by striking out from the word "then," to the end of said message, and insert in lieu thereof the words, "is therein expressed."

On the question being put, Will the house adopt said amendment? It was determined in the negative.
